++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Fine and dry but breezy further southwest.

Today:
Another cold start but soon turning warm with plenty of sunshine. High cloud will cause this sunshine to turn hazier, especially during the morning and further west. Remaining windy in the west with a risk of local gales. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Tonight:
Fine and dry conditions continuing, although temperatures will quickly turn chilly. Not as cold as previous nights, but frost still forming in places. Windy and gusty in the far west. Minimum temperature 0 deg C (32 deg F).

Saturday:
Fine and dry with plenty of sunshine after a chilly start, high cloud for some will give hazier conditions. Remaining breezy further southwest. Another chilly night with frost possible. Maximum temperature 18 deg C (64 deg F).

Outlook for Sunday to Tuesday:
Fine and dry on Sunday. Cloudier on Monday with winds easing, before a few showers on Tuesday. Relatively warm by day, although with a continued risk of frost overnight.
